Sixth annual Red Oak Grove Reunion to be May 20

The sixth annual Red Oak Grove Reunion will be Sunday, May 20, 2012, at Red Oak Grove Church. A warm welcome is extended to everyone who is interested in Red Oak Grove. The reunion will follow the traditional format: an 11:00 a.m. service, a noon potluck dinner in the church basement, and the 1:00 p.m. annual meeting.

Pastor Ron Lashmit of Tipton and State Representative Jeff Kaufmann of Wilton will conduct the non-denominational service. Special music will be performed. Those dining at the potluck are asked to bring a dish of food to share, and their own tableware. Coffee and a fruit drink will be provided.

Windows restoration proceeding . . . Thanks to the generosity of dozens of donors from several states, the project to restore all 37 church windows has now been fully funded ($27,000). Glass Heritage LLC of Davenport began work in February. Some 230 individual pieces of glass were removed from frames and each piece cleaned by hand. (Storm windows were left in place.) A list of all donors is included in this issue of the Reporter.

Attention to monuments . . . Volunteers are being sought for the first annual cleaning and straightening of monuments in Red Oak Grove Cemetery, on Saturday, May 19, from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. Lori Ostrich will give instruction on cleaning, and Rich Urban will head up the straightening teams. ## Cleanup day held March 11

A big thank-you to those who took part in the annual cleanup day at Red Oak Grove Church and Cemetery March 11, 2012: Scott, Vickie and Nathan Heick, Mike and Brenda Herring, Daisy Wingert, Elsie Payton, Cecil Mathias, Drew Oberfrank, Steve Nash, and Bob Rickard. Barb Rickard served a tasty noon lunch for the volunteers in the church basement.

The church interior fairly sparkled when the cleaning was complete. In the cemetery, sticks, old flowers and other debris were removed; recent graves were prepared for application of sod; some areas were rolled to flatten mole tunnels; and on the east (front) side of the South Cemetery, a gate was moved and the fence repaired.

Our history: Challis shivaree at Red Oak Grove

In the spring of 1960, Don Challis, a 49-year-old bachelor farmer, proposed to Mary Richards Moylan, 36, of Tipton. She had four children, ages 8 through 14, by her first marriage. In Shiloh, just north of Red Oak Grove Church, a flurry of activity prepared an unused house for the soon-to-be family of six. A sink replaced the kitchen pump, and 1 ½ baths were installed. Mary and her children moved in first.

The couple was married Oct. 7 at the rural Iowa City home of Judge Louis Penningroth, a Red Oak Grove native. The newlyweds then went on a brief honeymoon. Daughter Dianne Moylan Glenney of Muscatine recalled, “When they returned and we (children) came home from school, Dad had moved in and we were now a family.”

A couple of nights later, after supper, she went on, “we were startled by the sound of gunshots and clanking pans outside our house . . . We saw that the yard was full of cars and laughing neighbors.

Cigars and candy bars

“It seems that Dad had an inkling this was going to happen, and he told us we were being ‘shivareed’ . . . He passed out cigars and candy bars to the men, women and children who had surrounded our house. Then he said we were going up to the church for a party.

“So we all piled into the family vehicle – Dad’s ‘courting car’ – and headed up the hill to Red Oak Grove Church. After we arrived, we realized that the neighborhood was having a shower for Mom and Dad. Presents were opened and we had cake and ice cream in the church basement.”

Among the gifts were a number of heavy wool blankets. “Apparently, most of our neighbors realized we were going to need a lot of blankets,” said Dianne. Their house had no storm windows, and its coal furnace did little to heat the upstairs.

“It didn’t take us long to appreciate all the wonderful blankets that kept us warm at night, and the Red Oak Grove community who became our dear friends and neighbors.”
